The journey so far...

Established in 1992 by a group of motoring enthusiasts and renamed Australian MOTORLIFE Museum in 2007 this attraction provides an insight into the history of motoring including vehicles and memorabilia. These along with other exhibits including extensive and historically significant collections of gramophones and typewriters provide an intriguing snapshot into the progress of the 20th century.

The Australian MOTORLIFE Museum has a unique position in the tourism arena and has a national reputation within the heritage motoring community. The current collection comprises thousands of antique items and continues to grow at an astonishing rate.

The museum is set in the Integral Energy Recreation Park which features amenities, picnic areas, BBQ's and children's playground. It is the perfect family destination.
